I was carried before it, and the object of my visit demanded by this wooden god. The cheat was well performed, and would do credit to a professional ventrificular. As soldlers under the directions of the cross, these Indians are brave to rashness; and in their juncles and mountain factnesses, if united, are capable of successfully resisting any army that can be brought against them, whether Mexican or European. To una climated troops the fevers are almost fatal. Their forts lays principally in guerilla and bush fighting. At this they have repated the fevers are almost fatal. Their forts lays principally in guerilla and bush fighting. At this they have remainished in an open field, and have never yet turned their backs to the foe. They have a deadly hatred to all Mexicans, and with them neither receiv nor give quarters. They are rapid, and expert in the bush as monkeys, each man carrying his own commissariat, and are not then the successful the first of their country without their knowledge is impossible. The movements are rapid and without any resard to military tactics. Their scouting would do credit to any army, and to approach the inhabit d portions of their country without their knowledge is impossible. The country is one vast swamp and jungle, without roads, and impassable to any but Indians or bushmen. Maximilian will find to his cost that to subjugate them will be as difficult a task as to subjurate Uncle Abraham.

The history of these people prior to obtaining their liberty was flavery of the most inhuman and revolting character, and their former Mexican masters have deserved at their hands a thousand fold worse ireatment they do not torture, but it in pairs, take them in the bush and chop them to piece with the macket. space permit 1 could relate acts of inhuman treatment from their former masters that would make a Camanche er Blackfoot Indian blush for shame. They obtained their freedom in 1848 through the political factions of Menda. Some enterprising would-be President conceived the brilliant idea of arming and using them against the then existing State government. The results proved success ul and he became Freedent. The ex or exiled President followed in the footsteps of his predecessor and armed a few thousand more, and with them drove ou his opponent; and so back and forth, like a shuttlecock, these poor Indians were used as tools by the different political factions; until, finding out their own power and strength, they revolted against them, and, with the arms furnished by their masters, drove them from Bacalar, and almost out of the country. From that time to the present they have held the most of the State, notwithstanding repeated efforts made by Mexico to recover the territory.

The Mexican government a few years are made ar.

ing repeated efforts made by Mexico to recover the territory.

The Mexican government a few years ago made arrangements with the planters of Cuba to seil all they could capture into slavery, but have never been able to make a single shipment. The history of Yucatan for the past fifteen years—written as it is on many a bloody field—will not warrant Mr. Stevens' assertions that all traces of the daring and warlike chiaracter of their ancestors are entirely gone. A longer and more familiar acquaintance with them would have doubtless corrected many gross errors with which incidents and travels in Yucatan abound. Priestraft and slavery have made them suspicious of all strangers, to whom they will not communicate the secrets of their history or country. Many of them can write fluently their own language, and I know that among them there is a written history extending far back into the past, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that in their wild jungles, hidden from the eyes of the white man, may at Il exist some cities in all their ancient spiendor. In defence of their homes and liberty they have indeed shown themselves worthy descendants of the brave Montezuma.

BELIER, British Honduras, March 18, 1865. as recently arrived here from Mexico a corps of French officers who call themselves naturalists, and give out that they are collecting information for their own purposes. This story is not believed here, and not a little anxiety is felt in regard to their true object, which is believed to be in some way connected with the movement now said to be in progress to drive out the Indians from the State of Yucatan, in order to make an attack on our distant mahogany cutters; while some with a view to marching an army down here from Toco or Campeachy. These rumors create some excitement, which is increased by reports through the town ment, which is increased by reports through the town to the effect that a voral attempts have been made to get the place on fire. We have a special constabulary force of twenty-four men on guard each night, and will hot be caught mapping if we can help it.

The sugar planters are busy making sugar. The crops of cane are most abundant, and are yieiding one-third pnore pulse than in any former year. We shall have a large crop of gayd surar, with no end of molasses and run. The cotton crop, it is feared, will be a failure, bome planters have planted coffee, cocoa, tobacco, indigo, alispice and Indian corn, all of which are doing will and promise to give remunerative crops.

We have had an arrival of one hundred and thirty-two immigrants from Barbadees, and are now expecting about five or six hundred more from China. These will be followed by other cargos:

Trale is dull. Money scarce. The weather is dry, hot and dusty.

of the Fort Sumter anniversary will be given at the Academy of Music to-morrow evening, the proceeds of Academy of Music to morrow evening, the proceeds in which are to be devoted to the assistance of the orphan children of our volunteers. Chauncey Shaffer is to de-liver an oration on "The Past, Irusent and Future of our Country," and a poem by Robert D. Holmes will be re-cited. Grafulla's band will supply the music.

OPENING OF A NEW EVENING EXCHANGE.—Gallaher's new Evening Exchange, situated in West Twenty-fourth street, next door to the FI'th Avenue Hotel, was opened last night for business. The building is not yet finished, but the interior is sufficiently advanced to admit of evening sessions. It is a fine, spacious brick edifice, with an elegant white marble front, two stories high, and presenting a very attractive appearance. The business room is on the second floor, and is divided into two parts by a railing, inside of which are chairs for persons who desirs to subscribe two hundred and fifty dollars per year for a seat. The admission price to the space outside the railing will be one hundred dollars per year. "Stragglers" will be admitted for fifty cents per head. Besides the business room, there will be a billiard saloon, a bar and a smoking apartment on the first foor. The building will cost upwards of forty thousand dollars when completed. Mr. Gallaher, in opening the proceedings last upla, gave a little sketch of evening exchanges, and read the rules and regulations to be observed in the cambillament. He was followed by Mr. Banks and Mr. Gerge Francis Train, who made a few remarks. After which the calling room-method. ing sessions. It is a fine, spacious brick edifice, with was made lately by twenty-two colored troops from the Third and Thirty-fifth United States colored troops, under command of Sergeant Benn (colored). They left Jacksonville on the 7th of March, followed the river to Fort Gates, then marched into the interior, and after a tramp of three hundred miles arrived at Jacksonville. During their trip, while at Lake Church Hill, they were and finding themselves surrounded, thought it prudent to surrender. Sergeant Benn, seeing a rebel approaching, told him he would surrender his force if they would be treated as prisoners of war. The rebel assented; but when by this rise he had approached very near, he took deliberate aim, and shot the Sergeant dead. A general charge upon the colored force followed. They all took cover, and one brave fellow sung out "Remember Fort Fillow!" Every man took careful aim, and the rather unexpected result was that the whole rebel force was repulsed, with sla ghter. The man who shot S regent Benn was among the killed, having several builtet holes in him. The robel dead, after the fifth, numbered twenty-six—some accounts say twenty-seven. Our men took four prisoners, and the rebels had a large number of wounded, which they manifested great anxiety in getting off the field. The same party brought in eighty contrabands, mostly men, and nearly thirty horses and meles. They destroyed seventy-five hogsheads of sugar, three hundred and fifty barrels syrup, and a distillery-with four hundred barrels of whiskey. We had only two wounded. The fight occurred with House's cavalry.

ENUTAL OUTHAGE AND ROBBERY—AN AGED MAN
THE VICTIM—THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD AND ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GREENBACKS STOLEN—THE PERPETRATORS KNOWN.

Captain Walling, of the Twentieth precinct, yesterday handed and brutal outrage, which took place in his pre-cinct at about half-past eight o'clock on Sunday evening It appears that Mr. Gerordus DeForest, a man eighty five years of age and almost helpless, who resides at No. 112 west Thirty ninth street, heard the street door ben't ring and proceeded to answer it. As he opened the door a strange man asked for a lady named Gale, and was informed by Mr. DeForest that she had moved away. At that moment two other men ran up the steps, when the trio pushed themselves through the door into the hallway. Two of the men instantly seized their almost help-less victim by the throat, while the other man placed his hand over Mr. DeForest's mouth to prevent an alarm being given. Thy then threw him on the floor; after which he was carried up stairs and placed on a bed. A sheet was torn in strips, which the villains bound over Mr. DeForest's mouth, and tied his hands and feet so that he could neither speak nor move. With a Jimmy, with which these bold operators were provided, they forced open Mr. DeForest's private room and stole therefrom $3.000 in gold and $1,000 in greenback's. Fearing to leave by the iront door, the robbers escaped into the reary yard, scaled a fence, and escaped into Fortieth street. Mr. DeForest eventually managed to work the cotton bands from his mouth, when he screamed for help. His cries were heard by a neighbor, who called officer Newton, of the Twentieth precinct, and on entering the house they released Mr. DeForest, who related to them the particulars of the outrage. A search resulted in finding $600 of the stolen greenbacks on the floor in the hold, where the thieves had dropped it in leaving the house. The police, who have a minute description of the bold offenders, are sanguine of speedily arresting them.

CHARGE-OF FALSE FRETENCES. and proceeded to answer it. As he opened the door chants, doing business in Church street, appeared before Justice Dowling at the Tombs, and preferred a complaint for false pretences against Abraham Sickel, a merchant in the city of Rochester, this State. In the affidavit of Mr. Donaidson he charges that in the month of September last Sickel obtained from him on credit a bill of goods amounting to $5,408 02, by representing that the firm of which he (Sickel) was a member, had commenced business with a cash capital *f $12,000, and were prefectly free from debt. It is also alleged in the complainant's deposition that the representations made by Mr. Fickel were false and untrue, and made with the intent to cheat and defraud. Justice Dowling issued his warrant for Sickel's arrest, and he was taken into custody in Rochester. His counsel, however, sied out a habasa corpus, and took the case before the Supreme Court, there to test the question whether the accused should be admitted to bail in Rochester or go before the magistrate issuing the process. The Court decided that Sickel must give bonds before Justice Dowling, and accordingly he yesterday appeared before

THE BROADWAY SHOOTING AFFAIR-ANTE-MORTEN EX-AMINATION OF MR. WILLIS.—Coroner Wildey yesterday proceeded to the residence of Robert L. Willis, No. 702 ARISATION OF MR. WILLIS.—Coroner Wildey yesterday proceeded to the residence of Robert L. Willis, No. 702 Broadway, for the purpose of learning further particulars concerning the shooting of Willis on Sunday evening, as previously reported. In his examination Willis said:— letween eight and nhm o'clock last night I was standing on the stoop of Meachim's drug store alone, when Peter Young, alias Harvey Young, approached me and accused me of interfering with his business by b ing where I was; I denied it, when he called me a dammed liar and struck me a violent blow on the side of the head with a pistol; immediately afterwards he stepped back some four or hvo stops and fired the pistol at me; afterwards I closed in on him, and when he was about to fire on me a second time a policeman came up, and he and I prevented him; the onneer took him to the station house; I think he made a deliberate attempt to take my life; I have known him for lifteen years; I had no weapon in my possossion; I was shot by his pistol in the abdomen, and have be enconfined to my bed-since. Deput Coroner Wooster Beach, Jr., examined the injured man, and found the nank of the entrance of a pistol ball into the abdomen, on the left side, about two inches from the median line and just below the ribs; there we ro no signs of exhaustion or inflammation apparent. The do-tor says there is a chance for Mr. Willis to recover, but there is a strong probability of inflammation acturing in, in which event a fatal result would almost certainly follow. The jury found "That Robert L. Willis was dangerously wounded by a pistol shot at the hands of Feter H. Young, on the 9th day of April, 1865." On this verdict Young was committed to await the result of Willis 'injuries. Willis is forty-four years of age, and a native of this city. He was formerly a police officer in Brooktyn, but during the last twenty years he has been known as a sporting man.

The Starshay of Robert McCory.—Robert McCory, the boy, sixteen years of age, who was stabbed in South street, pear near Roosevelt, on Sunday afternoon, with a small pen-knife in the hands of John McDonnell alias "Commodore knife in the hands of John McDonnell alias "Commodore Nutt," is lying in a precarious condition in Bellevue Hospital. Coroner Wildey held an ante-mortem examination in the case yesterday at Bellevue Hospital, when it appeared that the trouble which resulted in the stabbing occurred about a kite which the boys were flying. McDonnell was arrested by officer Town, of the Fourth precinct, and the Coroner committed him to the Tomba. There are hopes that McCory will recover.

A CHILD POISONED.—Coroner Wildey yesterday held an inquest at 128 Sixth street on the body of Rebecca Savia.

inquest at 128 Sixth street on the body of Rebecca Sevia, a little girl three years of age, who died from the effects of swallowing a small quantity of Paris green, containing arsenic. The mother of decased had placed the poison in a closet for the purpose of destroying reaches, where it was found by the child, who swallowed a portion of it. A younger sister of deceased also took a small quantity of the poison, but without any serious consequences ensuing.

The Fourth District. district was quite brisk yesterday, the news of Lee's surrender having stimulated patriotism considerably. Ten substitutes and nineteen recruits were mustered, and so "reasonably busy" were the officials that but few drafted men-could be examined, and none were held to service.

Business was very active yesterday at Provost Marshal Maniere's office, owing to the cessation of recruiting at the Park. Twenty-four recruits were passed and a great many more could have been obtained, but the Provost Marshal was not kept supplied with funds; so that a great many who had presented themselves in the evening had to be refused. Sixteen of the number obtained were credited to the Twenty-first ward, which is working very energetically to fill its quota.

MORTHWEST COLET OF IRRIAND.—FLASHING LIGHT—AZAR
BLAND, COMMONLY CALLED ARANNORS, COUNTY DONEGAL.

The Port of Dublin Corporation hereby give notice that, in pursuance of the advertisement from this office of Oct 21, 1861, a Flashing Light was exhibited on the 1st inst from the lighthouse recently exected on Aran Island, coast of Donegal, and will be continued henceforth from sunset to sunrise.

The position and characteristics of the light, as given by their inspector of Lights, are as follows:—
The Laghthouse, which is circular and colored white, is built on Rinawros Point, Aran Island, in lat 50 52 N, and 100 8 33 48 W; its height from base of tower to top of dome of lantern is 75 feet.

The light is exhibited from a second order dioptric apparatus, at an elevation of 23 feet above high water spring tides, and shows a flash every twenty seconds, bright to seaward and red between the bearings of NE by E N, and should be seen in clear weather about 19 nautical miles.

Bearings are magnetic; variation 27 deg W.

By order, WILLIAM LEES, Secretary.
